Describe the manufacturing processes (elaborate to provide as much detail as possible)	The manufacturing of the 897-RCF Manual Sink Faucet begins with investment casting or forging of the body and handles, typically using brass or stainless steel for durability. These components then undergo CNC precision machining to drill internal waterways and cut threads for a leak-proof fit. The assembly is completed by installing rubber gaskets and ceramic or compression valves for fluid control and finally finished with electroplating (such as chrome or nickel) to provide a polished, corrosion-resistant surface.
